ERRATA

The Journal of Research and Development in Education is considerably embarassed by the number of typographical errors which appeared in Wilson and Jane Record's, "The White Social Scientist In The Black Community," (Vol. 8, No. 3, 1975). In the interest of accuracy, the following errata should be noted:

Page 63, first column, line 8 reads, "The second section moves the campus setting . . ." should read "The second section moves to the campus setting . . ."

Page 65, second column, line 8, the word "perspective," should read "perspectives"

Page 65, second column, line 32. The "(Rainwater & Yancey, 1967)" reference should have been inserted at the end of the sentence.

Page 67, first column, first order heading, should read, "The Campus Context and The Institutional Response," instead of "The Campus Context and The Instructional Response"

Page 67, second column, lines 16-18 should read "Many white scholars who had specialized in race relations curtailed their studies or withdrew from the discipline altogether . . ." instead of ". . . withdrew the discipline . . ."

Page 68, second column, line 27, should read ". . . espousement of an essentially aracial ethic . . ." instead of, "espousement of an ethic . . ."
